Visitors are always welcome at our gardens. We are located 3½ miles east of Everett. Take the Stevens Pass Highway out of Everett to Cavelero's Corner, then up the hill six-tenths of a mile. Our sign is on the highway. Our dahlias will be in bloom until the first frost.

Planting Instructions

Dahlias may be planted whenever the ground is warm enough, usually April 15 to June 15. Cold or damp ground delays sprouting and often causes roots to rot. Plant 6 or 7 inches deep, laying tubers flat with eyes up, stake and cover a few inches, gradually filling holes as plants grow. After the buds form, water as needed. Any kind of preferred fertilizer may be used, care being taken that it does not come in contact with the root. Too much nitrogen may cause soft tubers in the fall—giving poor keeping qualities. Anyone can grow lovely dahlias with little care or worry and have blooms until frost.

DIGGING AND STORING

After the first killing frost cut the tops from the plants. Using caution, loosen the clumps on all sides with a spade, to prevent breaking the necks of the tubers. Dig only one variety at a time and mark carefully. Wash with a fine spray so that clump is easy to handle and the eyes are easily seen. Separate the clump so there is an eye on each tuber. Dust the cut with mixture of sulphur and lime and store in dry sawdust with temperature around 40°
